President's Message February 2024

Worthy Hibernian Brothers:

It's February, and time to talk about the raffle ticket sales season. It's underway and if you want tickets, send an email to Jack Simila.

We'll need help setting up for the Church Hill Irish Festival on Friday, March 15, 2024. Then, on March 16, 2024, man the booth, and on the last day, Sunday, March 17, 2024, help to take down the booth. Let's have a great turnout of volunteers so we have the booth covered to sell raffle tickets and recruit for the entire Festival.

The date for the St Patrick's Dinner at O'Tooles Restaurant on Forest Hill Avenue has not been set, but everyone will get an email on this. The March 21, 2024 5pm to 6pm Social will be held at O'Toole's on Midlothian Turnpike.

I hope everyone had a good New Year's Eve 2024 and I also hope 2024 will be good Year for everyone!

A Bit of Irish History

Irish Monastic Schools

In Irish Medieval schools, we find the origin of the future European Universities and of the famous "Ratio Studiorum", the educational system of the Jesuits, of the Renaissance time. After the fall of the Roman Empire, in 476, countless numbers of monks, philosophers, teachers and scribes, many of whom hailed from Ireland, brought a new wave of re-moral-cultural renaissance to a Europe, ravaged by barbaric invasions, droughts, decadence and the disappearance of moral values, generating a genuine spiritual improvement, as opposed to advancing colonisation per se. It in turn produced a healing and civic reunification of almost the entire European continent. In this epochal framework the Irish monks were the principal protagonists. By living their lives in the exemplary way they did, the monks, by example, proved that the power of the spirit and respect for values could be the catalyst to true and sustainable change.

Irish Monastic Schools in Europe

According to the calculations of Sir James Ware the number of famous medieval schools in Ireland amounted to 164. The main monastic centres Clonmacnoise, Clonard, Clonfert and Bangor had over 3000 students and monks. According to Professor Padraig O Riain in A Dictionary of Irish Saints:

Scarcely a parish in Ireland is without one or more dedication to saints in the form of churches in ruins, holy wells and other ecclesiastical monuments.

He has documented over 1,000 saints associated with over 1000 parishes in Ireland and over 500 places in Europe containing such information as feast days, localizations, chronology and genealogies. Many of the Irish Monastic Centers are on the UNESCO World Heritage List including Skellig Michael, St. Gallen, Regensburg, Wurzburg, Reichenau, Salzburg, Vienna.

Our Division History

The Msgr. Charles Kelly, Jr. Division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was formed in December, 2009 and conducted it's first meeting on January 21, 2010 at St. John Neumann Church, Powhatan, Virginia. The next few meetings were taken up with election of officers and the many procedural items needed to get our group started.

Since that time we continue to grow, adding new members and supporting and donating to Catholic schools and Churches in the area, in line with our commitment to Friendship, Unity and Christian Charity.
